'CAMPAIGN OF HATE' BY KLAN REVEALED

Ku Kluxers are not the same the country over. The more backward the district and the more ignorant the members, the more malignant will be the Klan program. This is explained in detail in today's installment of "The Confessions of a New England Klansman."

By AN FEARLEIGH.

ARTICLE NO. 5.

IN my first two articles I dealt with the initiation of an alien. In my third I dealt with grips and symbols. Yesterday I wrote of the Klan Secret Service and kindred matters.

This far I have not touched upon the more objectionable phases of Ku Klux Klan activity.

Certainly there is nothing wrong in membership fees, as alleged an initiation a materialization; nor in the rest of the fuss and rustian that marks Klan ceremonial.

Neither is moral turpitude involved in having secret signs and symbols. All indices have them.

It is after the initiation that the Ku Klux member starts his attack, cause him to stop and think.

My very good I call it a special merit for having joined the

and the third it will be understood showing no evidence of having been first received.

The belief that killed Noble was due out of the door of the Thierys today. It was of the Thierys that Noble was shot.

According to an autopsy performed by Dr. Thierys, the bullet that killed Noble was fired directly between the eyes over the bridge of the nose.

DOUBT IN BUREAU THEORY

Chief Knicker of the Somerset police said today that although the bureau theory had not been entirely abandoned, there was no evidence to support it.

He said that there was nearly an inch of dust on the ledge of the window by which the Thierys were supposed to have entered. This dust showed no traces of intruder having been effected from the outside, although the screen was ripped from the outside.

The two rear doors that were open were unlocked from the inside, the police said.

Police searched the Thierys house for the missing police with Dr. Thierys was not, but without success.

Arrangements were made today to remove Dr. Thierys from the Somerset General Hospital where he is employed as an internist. An X-ray of his head revealed no fracture.

PHONE GIRLS JUST HAVE TO BE BEAUTIFUL, SAYS OFFICIAL

REASON FOR BELIEF

Health and Good Dispositions Make Them Attractive, He Explains

When word came that one of these quick-fingered little persons who really finds the wrong number about once in several thousand calls—all unpleasant joke makers to the contrary—has won not less than five heavy prizes, the files had some investigation of one of America's best established institutions—the famous beauty of the demure telephone operator hidden away so stately under the eye of an unrelenting supervisor.

The girl whose talents have been directed of late to winning beauty prizes as well as finding obscure numbers, is Miss Jean Shields of Cincinnati. O. She is a brunette and her smile is charming.

NONE KNOWS WHY.

Last year Miss Shields was declared the most beautiful girl in Kansas City, winning thereby a trip to the Orient and Honolulu. Before that she had won prizes in beauty contests at St. Louis and in St. Louis, in Kansas, and recently was judged the prettiest girl in the Cincinnati style show.

Not even the Boston supervisors know exactly why they're the prettiest working girls in a world fairly crisscrossed with pretty working girls, though they have plenty of very scientific explanations.

So far as the public goes they need only have pretty voices and regular dispositions. But the more even the bluish-green, around the telephone organization, claim they get 'em for more regular, good looks, and that, besides, the prettiest one just naturally gets around to the neighborhood of the telephone employment office.

A beautiful telephone official, who needed to have his name withheld, says it's all because of the "smile." The girls have to have to handle all the numbers, fit in with the customers and the like—just a matter of proportion.

"Cute too big and girls too little won't fit," he explained, taking it for granted that those who are not handsome the same well-proportioned noses that they have arms, which seems questionable with the "smile."

"Then, too, we want 'im' beauty," he went on, "and he makes for beauty." This time he was talking LOOK FOR HEALTH.

Seriously, though, the employers of a room full of girls who have hard work and a lot of conversation and sitting still to do, actually keep an eye out for beauty.

They say a rather pretty girl must have a good disposition to make her pleasant expression, and that the intelligence that comes from most of the bright eyes at any of the Boston exchanges is a part of the beauty of the girls they have.

MAYBE IT'S—

Maybe it's the terms, or the health insurance, or the fascination of watching little blue cards come and putting them out by pushing little tubes into even little holes, an occupation which requires a certain untutored—all the institution stands, and the investigator begins to believe that questioning it is really horribly unorthodox—a strange worthy of a ring for her, and stops at once.

Maine Republican Nominates Also Appeals for Purity of the Ballot

Portland, Me., Aug. 8.—"One issue more to transcend all others out of the troubled waters of Maine, should we have law passed, and that the purity of our ballot," State Senator Ralph G. Brewster told the voters of the Lincoln club of this city this afternoon, at their 300th day at Pikes Island, where he delivered his first address since he was declared by the Governor and Council to be a Republican.

All good citizens must unite in such a movement, Brewster said, for the election of a Republican candidate, upon the Republican platform, advocating Republican principles. That is his position, he said, and he is not going to be swayed by the clamor of the day.

MILITARY SERVICE ENGINEER BONUS

The American Advertiser Bonus Bureau has received numerous inquiries from soldiers, sailors and marines who are at present in the service and who wish to know if they are eligible to apply for the bonus. The bonus law specifically provides that any individual who was a member of the military or naval service after April 3, 1917 and before November 11, 1918, is eligible to make application for the bonus of each individual was discharged under honorable conditions. Therefore, all those soldiers, sailors and marines who are now in the service and those who have been continuously in the service up to the present time and whose service in the World War should not end in obtaining a bonus check, claim it out and sending it to Washington, all non-commissioned officers and those commissioned officers who held the grade of captain or any lower grade are also eligible to receive the bonus. In fact, if any veteran, and this includes the women, if you men (IP) who performed any service during the World War, in addition to whether or not they are in the service, they are not entitled to any right to apply for the bonus. They should not expect to receive a bonus or write, submitting the data during which they served, together with the branch of the service.

Many nurses and women (IP) who served during the war and have been married, under the impression that they are not eligible for the bonus. This impression, of course, is wrong. They will make application without delay. Some questions and answers are as follows:

Q—A lady husband settled in the navy from 1917 to 1918, and was discharged from the navy in 1918. She is now married. Can she apply for the bonus?

A—Yes, she is entitled to apply for the bonus. She should apply for the bonus as soon as possible. The bonus law provides that any individual who was a member of the military or naval service after April 3, 1917 and before November 11, 1918, is eligible to make application for the bonus.

Q—A man who served in the navy from 1917 to 1918, and was discharged from the navy in 1918. He is now married. Can he apply for the bonus?

2500 CUPPERS IN RADIO

A survey of the radio industry recently completed by the Copper and Brass Research Association discloses that, on the basis of an estimated total of 2,500,000 sets in use today, radio apparatus in the United States has consumed 5,000,000 pounds of copper.

The survey indicates that the number of radio sets in use will increase in equal the number of automobiles and telephones in the United States (est. 15,000,000), and that this will likely occur in five years time. Copper is an indispensable metal in radio manufacture, either in its basic form or in alloys of brass or bronze. The average radio set requires about two pounds of copper, consisting of such things as antenna, coils, lead wires and connections, switch, push buttons, binding posts, terminals and other fittings.

Since radio rate is continually making and remaking his set, what is reflected in the proportion of sales of parts to finished sets. About 75 per cent. of radio sales are for parts, and 25 per cent. for finished sets.

The radio industry has grown from practically a non-existent state only four years ago to an industry of $100,000,000 in 1923, and the total sales of the industry in 1924. In another two or three years radio sales in the United States will undoubtedly reach the half-billion dollar mark.

Hot Weather Proved Too Much for This One

What with the mercury pouring out of the top of the thermometer, and all the deadly microbes in the street corner kiosk, not to mention the recent exacerbation of the Ku Klux Klan, life proved too complex for this frail thing, with the tragic results pictured above.

We know that as soon as you see the mute pleading in the gentle eyes above (see left center for eyes), you will gently gather up the pieces and seek to straighten out this wretched life. (And so young, too!)

And if you are one of the several who appear to have forgotten that commendable maxim about procrastination, let us save you the price of a special delivery stamp.

Answers which are postmarked not later than one day before the publication here of the solution will be accepted, even though they arrive later. Thus, if your answer to No. 4 is postmarked yesterday, it will still be accepted if it arrives in one of today's mails.

This may help you to get one of these prizes that we have mentioned before, but we think they're the crystal's catchwords.

JUGGLING COMEDIAN IN DRAMATIC ROLE

Scraggly Chin Adornment Raised for Beauty's Sake

Up to 1889 Abraham Lincoln was as smooth-faced as Napoleon. He did not like whiskers, and even though his beard was for and terrible in those days the future President stuck to the visage unadorned style. That year, his belated manager, a growth of beard would greatly improve him. So he received a reply in Lincoln's characteristic style and a lot of photographs taken from then on campaign purposes.

Several months later, in 1861, when Lincoln, then President-elect, was en route to Washington, train stopped at a station. Mr. Lincoln made a speech. He said: "I have correspondents in this town, Grace Hoadell, and I should like to see her."

A day or two later a girl came forward and was rewarded with a $100.00 bill. "Abraham Lincoln," said the great man, "I took your advice."

Scraggly Chin Adornment Raised for Beauty's Sake

Up to 1889 Abraham Lincoln was as smooth-faced as Napoleon. He did not like whiskers, and even though his beard was for and terrible in those days the future President stuck to the visage unadorned style. That year, his belated manager, a growth of beard would greatly improve him. So he received a reply in Lincoln's characteristic style and a lot of photographs taken from then on campaign purposes.

PICKED STARS OF THE TENNIS TOUR TO PLAY AT LONGWOOD

REAL TEST FOR U. S. RETNERS

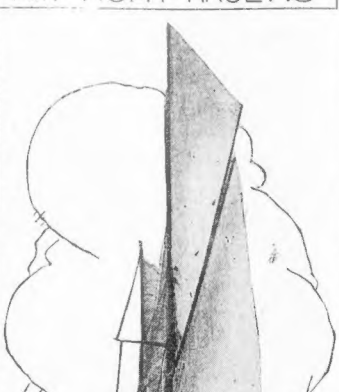

By VINCENT RICHARDS

New York, Aug. 9.—Although the more national tennis championships of the United States is more than two weeks away, there seems to be unusual interest manifested on the part of the court fans in the coming events.

Remark of this early interest in the tournament is probably due to the remarkable international entry which assures the title of world's single championship on turf. Besides the players of the Australian Open, which includes Hoades, Patterson, Woods, Kalm, and Schininger, there will be stars found in the list of some 160 players from some fifteen nations.

To oppose this array of foreign court talent, the United States will be represented by Vincent Richards, William M. Johnston, R. N.

MADE TO ORDER DAYS FOR YACHT RACERS

A group of the Astor Cup yachts which may appear in regattas at New England clubs late season. In the foreground is shown Olin's schooner Vagabond, and the Olin's schooner Vagabond.

With such a combination of national and international stars, which never was exceeded at Wimbledon, England, during the holding of the world's tennis championships, the sanction of the international lawn tennis federation, it is not surprising that the former tennis rivalry in the game took to thrilling competitors and equally excited fans in the beginning of the championship.

The only player of world-wide fame who will not compete in the coming championship is D. G. Anderson, famous Australian Davis cup player and conqueror of William M. Johnston, in that never to be forgotten five set singles encounter last summer at Forest Hills.

Anderson, having made the long journey from Australia for two successive years, found it impossible to get away from business this summer to compete again.

What a pity it is that Anderson could not have joined forces with Patterson, Brooks and Woods for one last try in quest of the historic cup. Had the tall Australian been converted to come this year, there are many of the opinion that the United States could have lost the most talked of trophy in international sport.

Although the Australian players in this country at present must do without the services of Anderson, nevertheless, judging from the recent performances of Patterson and Woods in the Davis cup preliminary rounds, it is perhaps lucky for America that the last hitting Anderson was unable to make the trip.

William, Francis T. Hunter, Harvey Emerson, Howard and Robert Kiley and many other famous racquet-wielders. U. I. Norton, formerly of South Africa but now a resident of St. Louis, will also compete in the championship.

Yachtsmen Ready to Close Record Week Racing

The combined yacht club championships now gathered at Marblehead are preparing today for the greatest week in the history of racing in New England.

Although conditions for the week were far from perfect at the start, the racing has been very good. In the class the Olin's schooner Vagabond, and the Olin's schooner Vagabond.

A fleet of more than 200 yachts were out for the second day at the Corinthian Yacht Club. The racing was very good. In the class the Olin's schooner Vagabond, and the Olin's schooner Vagabond.

DRIVE TO RAISE MONDS ON AT PEABODY

Peabody High winners of the 1923 North Shore league football title, today to repeat this season's championship on the new Peabody high school field.

The field cost the athletic council over $10,000 and a drive to pay this bill will start Monday. Season football tickets which admit two to the night home games will be sold for $10.

It is expected that Peabody's loyal grid fans will help this cause as they have others in the past. The Western National Bank and the Turner Trust Company are backing the Peabody athletic drive.

The new stadium has a seating capacity of about 10,000. Over 5000 new bleachers are being erected at a cost of $10,000 more will be available.

When the season opens next fall 121 Peabody's championship eleven will make another bid for fame.

FOREIGN STARS ELIGIBLE FOR TITLE RACE

For the first time in the history of American tennis, foreign stars will be eligible to compete for the American title.

This privilege was granted them by Frank Kruger, head of the National Tennis Association. Kruger also ruled that this year's championship will be decided in a series of five rounds. Points will be awarded for the first four places in each round and the rider scoring the largest number will be declared the champion.

The Revere track has been allotted two of the five rounds by Kruger and the first will be staged at the beach tonight. George Chapman, winner of the championship in 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923, when the title was decided in one race, is the favorite of the entries.

Vicent Richards of the Tallan, already the winner of the New York Veldren first race in the title series, is another dangerous of the foreign contenders. He will be ably seconded by Marshall Godling of France and Henry Wynsdael of Belgium, to have a foreigner carry off the American crown.

However, with Clarence Krammer of the American team, the foreign invasion is sure to reduce plenty of competition.

The first round of the match is also listed as a feature. This will be the first time that the Revere track has been used for the title series.

OVERSEAS MAN VICTIM OF AMNESIA

Manchester, N. H., Aug. 8.—
A young man who is able to tell questions only that he saw ~~some~~ persons and that he has a ~~slight~~ somewhere, was taken into the County Hospital.

Officer Aurel N. Benoit was asked by a man who said he could not remember his name, his home or where he had been or where he was going.

Repeated questions revealed the fact that the man served with Company B of the 26th Infantry. He could not recall from what camp-ment went across, where he was stationed in Europe, in what engagements he participated or under what officers he served.

He said repeatedly he had a sister but he cannot recall her name where she lives or when his last

The only identification mark on the letter "S" on his belt buckle and on his cuff buttons, Mrs. Editha C. Gould, superintendent of the Red Cross office, sent a description of the man, as well as his fingerprints, to the Red Cross offices at Washington and Boston.

CAN you imagine the pain of your stomach?

Water finance have a way of reaching the the Jordan and the Nile during power that is harmless enough on the skin, may cause the death if he takes it.

Therefore, before you take any medicine, be sure you are protected by getting half of a dose of Kane's Kidney Pills.

It is the only medicine. The rest of the dose was given a 2-month-old baby to play with. In just one hour the infant was dead.

Labels in the mouth of some, since wheezing powder cases were few symptoms. Cellulose was present in all cases and in one pneumonia died. All of the subjects were present in each case.

Following an investigation of fatalities among babies from inhalation of zinc stearate dusting powder the House of Delegates in the State of Maryland adopted the following resolution:

"That the State Department of Health be authorized to require that dusting powders to place 'Caution' labels on containers of such powders and to change the containers so that the powder might not flow out of the container in the top of the can were found to be relatively more harmful than smaller ones, since more powder could escape from them."

Analysis of zinc stearate powder and other common

Any good talcum powder will suffice in the nursery, but if the same preparation is preferred, continual care should be taken to keep it away from babies and small children. The stoves or valves in a gas can should be kept closed when it is not in use.

If the baby does obtain possession of the can and swallow or sniffs up the powder, call a physician. An emetic of white of egg and water should be given and the stomach pumped.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

To settle an argument, I would like to know which is the largest organ in the body and also how long the intestines are!

M. T. P. Boston.

The Heart is the largest organ in the body. The small intestinal tube is about 20 feet long. The large intestine is a portion about 6 feet long called the large intestine about twice the diameter of the small intestine.

In a case of skin trouble while you advise the use of vitamin "A"?

Mr. P. Rivers,

I do not like to advise you for a disease as general as scurvy. However, I think it would be better for you to consult one of the skin specialists at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Fruit street, Boston and let them judge what your particular case needs. I am sure that the proper treatment is obtainable.

Would... be good for scurvy-like persons?

Dr. A. S. Richardson,

You should not be advising this. It is not ordered by your physician. It is most important in this disease to get the proper treatment from a physician or clinic in charge of the disease. If the best results are to be obtained and a cure effected.

Has to Borrow Clothes

Helping Hand Editor:
I am a mother of five children

And my body is in need of strength for my military duties. I would be very thankful if you could join me out in getting some shoes for my children, as the shoes they have are worn. I have a girl, 14½, age 13½, and a boy, 14½, age 7 weeks. You could get me shoes for 2 boys, 12½, age 12½, and 12½, age 12½. I take 7, wear large size dresses. I haven't thinking to wear to take my last dress. I have a lot of things to take my baby to the hospital every week, so her little feet are in plaster cast. I support no children, and I have a lot of things and some women's love. There must a night my children have to go to bed without anything to eat. I have a lot of things to do. Please try and help me. Also, if anyone has anything to give away, and a pair of shoes, please let me know. I'm very grateful to them.

MRS. A. D.

Who Needs a Mattress?
Helping Hand Editor:
If some poor person wishes to have a mattress for a double bed a stroller, pretty good, and some house dresses, faded but good yet I will be glad to have them care for them. I cannot send them

I am a widow myself and find times hard sometimes.

MRS. D. H.

Thank you. We have asked Mrs. A. B. R. to call for the stroller, and housewifery. A present we know of no one of file requesting a waitress.

Children Need Shoes

Helping Hand Editor:
 "Won't you please help me. My husband has been out of work for a long time and I have six children. It is very hard to clothe and feed them and I am not a healthy woman. If you can get me some shoes for the little ones, I will be thankful. Size 4½, 10, 12, 8 and 5½, and for little baby 5 months. They are barefoot now. MRS. L. F."

COPELAND LEADS STOCKS HIGHER

Opening under a continuation of the selling pressure which featured the last two hours of Friday's session, the week-end New York Stock Market exhibited rallying tendencies and prices in practically every department of the market advanced moderately before the end of the first hour.

Copper stocks were the first to point the way to higher prices, large blocks of issues like Copper Development, Kennecott, Chile and American Shelters being taken at slight advances over the previous close.

Outside of the Van Sweringen stocks, Canadian Pacific and Northern, the rally was weak, with the leading stock showing a little improvement as the season wore on. McKelvie and the Van Sweringen were leaders, both stocks advancing briskly.

Iron Pipe was under further pressure in the first period, on reports that the steel in this line was making a large block. Later in the session it firmed up and advanced from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2.

Foundation Company maintained a lead in the dividend industries, reaching a new high for the year. The stock was under further pressure in the first period, on reports that the steel in this line was making a large block.

Price Movements Mixed in Major Bond Market. Mixed price movements featured New York bond trading, which was marked by a steady decline in the price of government bonds.
